

McGranery Opens Drive To Oust Foreign-Born U. S. Reds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—(P)—Atty. Gen. McGranery Thursday launched a new program for ridding the country of foreign-born leaders of the Communist Party—a program involving jail-without-bail, denaturalization and deportation.

A the same time, the attorney general moved to get Communist Party Chairman William Z. Foster on trial for alleged conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the United States government by violence.

Foster was among the 12 top party officials indicted in New York City in 1948 under the Smith Act, which prohibits advocating any use of force in bringing about governmental changes. At the time, he pleaded ill health and his case was separated from the 11 others.

All who went to trial were convicted and given sentences ranging up to five years. When the Supreme Court affirmed these cases, four of the defendants fled into hiding. One was captured in Mexico, but three are still at large, presumably outside this country.

McGranery said late Wednesday he wants to know whether Foster is now able to stand trial, in view of "current, multitudinous activities." He said these include publication of two lengthy books during the last year and regular contributions to the Daily Worker, the Communist newspaper in New York City.

U. S. Atty. Myles J. Lane of New York was directed to seek a court order to require the party chairman to appear for a new medical examination.

Through the immigration service, McGranery ordered eight "active Communists" now defending deportation proceedings to surrender at once or face arrest and forfeiture of their bonds.

McGranery said he proposes to hold this group without bail until they can be shipped out of the country.

In addition, the attorney general announced he has started or is considering denaturalization or deportation proceedings, or both, against 10 of the 85 alleged members of the party's forward echelon in this country who have been indicted thus far on conspiracy charges.

All of the 10 are aliens or naturalized citizens. McGranery noted at a recent news conference that he has no power to take exclusion action against any natural-born American for any cause.

Three of the "top 11" Communists convicted of conspiracy in New York were among those ticketed for deportation after they have served their time. They are Irving Potash, Jacob Stachel and John Williamson.

Others proposed for exclusion include William Schneiderman of San Francisco, Communist Party chairman for California, and five others recently convicted with him of Smith Act conspiracy on the West Coast.

In the case of Schneiderman, McGranery said, cancellation of his 1927 naturalization would be a first necessary step. He would then be an alien, subject to deportation.

Thugs Take 10 Captives As Three Cars Stolen

SPARTA, Tenn., Oct. 23—(P)—Police are searching three states for a quartet of bandits whose leader described himself as a "three-gun maniac" and lived up to the description in a highway kidnapping spree Wednesday.

The gang, including a bashful boy of 18 who carried boxing gloves and a robe with him, abducted 10 persons and stole three cars.

The victims escaped in the same haphazard manner they were kidnapped—one, two or three at a time at different places along U. S. 41.

The state highway patrol said some of them were fired on by the bandits as they got away, but apparently none was injured.

A newly married couple from Houlton, Me., was the first to escape. They jumped out at a stop light in Sparta and spread the story of the wild spree of wholesale kidnapping and petty robbery.

A WIDE GROUND and air search was launched throughout middle Tennessee and roadblocks also were set up in Kentucky and Georgia.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cookson of Houlton told this story:

At daybreak Wednesday, they were awakened by two men, well dressed and past middle age, at a roadside park near Hasper, Tenn., where they had slept the night in their car.

It will soon be time when kids (and a few others) will be soaping windows as a Halloween stunt.

This has meant a great deal of hard work on the part of property owners, to scrape the soap off, or wash it off.

Now comes a man who wants to help make removal of soap an easy matter.

Instead of scraping or washing, take a cloth and simply wipe the soap off of the glass by pressing hard while using the cloth, he declares.

It is surprising what this will do, it is claimed. Anyway it is worth trying.

Constitutional Convention Is Debated Here

Meeting Sponsored By LWV On Vital Issue Of Year

Intellectual fireworks were combined with friendly, but serious, debate on the question of holding a constitution convention for Ohio at a meeting in the high school auditorium here Wednesday night.

At the meeting were residents of Fayette and adjoining counties. The auditorium, while not filled to capacity, held a bigger crowd than had been anticipated.

The meeting, sponsored by the Fayette County League of Women Voters, was presided over by Mrs. Paul S. Craig, the league president.

Only a few days remain for the people to make up their minds how to vote on a constitutional convention. The constitution of Ohio provides that every 20 years the electorate shall vote on the question "Shall there be a convention to revise, alter, or amend the Constitution of Ohio?" This is the year.

The convention method is a safety valve placed in the Ohio constitution so that serious and multiple injustices, if any, may be remedied in state and local government.

THERE ARE TWO other methods of constitutional amendment in Ohio. They are: (1) submission of proposed amendments by the Legislature—which may be done at any time by a three-fifths vote or (2) submission of proposed amendments to the people by initiative petition.

Virtually everybody agrees that the constitution needs revision. The question is how to get it.

The Constitution is a body of fundamental law, the basic framework of our government, which prescribes the type of government the people want, who shall have authority to govern, and how the power of government shall be used.

Before Ohio became a state in 1802, it was a part of the Northwest Territory which was the first commonwealth in the world whose organic law recognized every man as free and equal.

OHIO'S FIRST constitution was drawn up by a constitutional convention in 1802. A second constitutional convention was held in 1851 and by that time the population of the state had skyrocketed to 20 times its size when the first constitution was written. Ohio's last convention was held in 1912. There were public hearings and the constitution was given a thorough review. The convention submitted 41 amendments to the voters and 33 of them were approved by vote of the people.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization which seeks to "promote political responsibility through informed and active participation in government."

As a service to Fayette County the league's offering here on Wednesday night was a dynamic debate on the burning question of the hour—shall a constitutional convention?

The affirmative speakers were Dr. Howard White of the Department of Government of Miami University, and Attorney George Coen, of Lancaster.

SOME OF THEIR opening arguments were: While no changes can be made in Ohio's constitution, until the people vote for the revisions, these facts should be considered. The state constitution is complex and out of date in some respects. Parts of it need to be revised or eliminated. It no longer is well organized. It contains more than 65 amendments and it contains such odd bits as duellists cannot hold public office. Often it is hard to figure out what it means, and that results in expensive lawsuits. Better administration means saving money. The judicial system needs simplification. Ohio's court system needs improvement. The selection of judges should be taken out of politics. The Legislature should meet annually instead of

'Smear' Is Top Topic Used By Ike, Adlai In Campaigns

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(P)—The word "smear" was a major topic being used Thursday by the two major candidates for the presidency—Republican Dwight Eisenhower and Democrat Adlai Stevenson.

Each candidate was beating the big city bushes for votes, Eisenhower in New York and Stevenson in Ohio.

The GOP nominee had at his elbow Thomas Dewey, governor of New York and twice-defeated Republican White House aspirant. And it appeared that Dewey, one of the chief engineers in Ike's nomination, was on hand to spearhead a bitter attack against President Truman.

Eisenhower Wednesday night told a wildly cheering audience in Troy that the Democratic administration had adopted the inflation policy to win the election by duping the people into thinking they had more money.

BUT DEWEY, in introducing Eisenhower, delivered an even more blistering attack. He accused Truman of heading an "unholy, filthy, stinking campaign."

Referring to Republican charges that Truman falsely accused Eisenhower of religious and racial bias, Dewey asked:

"How low can you get to conceal skeletons in your own White House?"

Dewey asked the Troy audience whether the voters were going to allow Stevenson to "sneak into the White House on a slimy trail of Truman mud."

Eisenhower, ripping into the Truman administration, told 10,000 persons in his audience that "the inflation we suffer is not an accident. It is a policy."

The general said the Democratic administration aim was to "give more people more money that is worth less."

"What they have done," he said, "is to cheapen our money, and history shows that this is always done by an administration that cares more for the next election than the next generation."

Eisenhower said inflation was a peril comparable to "a concealed minefield" and that "you will lose the battle with Communism without a shot being fired" unless the nation's economy is strengthened.

ACROSS WESTERN New England Wednesday, from Hartford, Conn., to Pittsfield, Mass., Eisenhower struck back at Truman charges that a Republican victory would lead to a depression and unemployment.

He said that, at any sign of a recession, he would call in "the finest minds" in the United States to block a depression before it could happen. He said further that he would hold down expenses and eliminate waste to cut taxes.

Members of his staff disclosed, meanwhile, that he was encouraged by big turnouts in normally Democratic cities such as Boston and Hartford and intended to concentrate the remainder of his campaign.

Wilson Subdivision Plat Is Accepted by Council; Other Matters Taken Up

The plat for the Willard F. Wilson subdivision of Washington C. H. was formally accepted by council at the regular session Wednesday night.

The addition is located off High Street in the southern part of the city and consists of 20 lots for residence purposes.

A plat was presented by Wilson, who stated that streets and alleys had been laid out and improved and the first residences had been built.

An ordinance accepting the addition was presented by Solicitor William Junk and adopted by unanimous vote.

Wilson explained that completion of the streets would be made next spring after the present macadam settles during the winter.

Ed Kreider, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, asked council for some action regarding the proposed withdrawal of the passenger, mail and express coach operated by the DT&K Railroad.

AFTER SOME discussion council adopted a resolution protesting removal of the coach and delegated Solicitor Junk to appear before the Public Utilities Commission at a hearing Oct. 28, and protest removal of the coach.

Kreider stated he had contacted representatives of the villages of Jeffersonville, Good Hope and other points, and a meeting is to be held at the Chamber of Commerce tonight at 8 P. M. at which the matter will be discussed and some plan of action decided upon.

Judge Robert L. Brubaker also spoke on the importance of having the coach retained.

City Manager James F. Parkinson stated that he had been visited by two men who urged efforts to keep the coach in operation. He said they had stated that the overall operation of the train showed a profit, instead of a loss.

It was also stated that a utilities commission employee had been riding the train daily for two weeks, making a careful check on all business in connection with the coach.

Brubaker suggested that one of the hearings of the commission might be held in Washington C. H.

JUDGE BRUBAKER addressed council regarding a new municipal court clerk. He also said that the two bonding companies who carried the bonds for Don Flanders, were taking steps to make good the amount of his embezzlement.

An ordinance was adopted to pay Waldron D. Sheets, technical consulting engineer, $50 per month for services in connection with the sewer.

Roks Regain Hill As Reds Try Comeback

SEOUL, Oct. 23—(P)—South Korean infantrymen regained the crest of Iron Horse Mountain on the central Korean front Thursday, then battled fiercely against counter-attacking Chinese Reds.

The U. S. Eighth Army, said the Rok Ninth Division captured complete control of the hill and a nearby knob at 1:20 p. m. The Chinese launched their counterattack about 90 minutes later.

Fighting for the high ground, at the western end of the old Iron Triangle, has raged for two weeks. About 20 miles to the east, U. S. battlefront officers said the Chinese were bringing up fresh troops to reinforce their battered battalions threatening Sniper Ridge and Triangle Hill.

They said one complete Chinese division of 10,000 troops had been mauled in the central front fighting of the last 10 days.

American and South Korean soldiers on the two peaks dug in to meet expected new attacks. Triangle and Sniper Ridge are the keys to towering Papa-San Mountain, a Communist staging area just to the north.

In the air war, U. S. Sabrejet pilots tangled twice with Russian Mig15s deep in northwest Korea. The fifth Air Force said one Red warplane was destroyed.

GE Denies Unfair Practices Charge

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(P)—A General Electric spokesman Wednesday denied a charge by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers that the company had engaged in unfair labor practices in Niles, O., Tiffin, O., and four other plants.

The CIO complained the company had negotiated with the independent United Electrical Workers Union while bargaining elections were pending at the six plants.

Ohio Candidates Warm Up In Their Bids For Election

COLUMBUS, Oct. 23—(P)—Ohio candidates for state offices continue their campaign stumping Thursday with a lengthy schedule of speeches.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, will add to the speech-making with appearances in Ashtabula, Youngstown, Ravenna, Akron, He will deliver a major address in Cleveland Arena. The talk will be carried by CBC-MBS radio at 10 p. m.

Wednesday night in Akron GOP Sen. John W. Bricker criticized Democratic administration spending which he said was aimed at swaying public opinion. His opponent, Michael P. DiSalle, criticized what he termed the Bricker "isolationist" and "extremist" record.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, in New Philadelphia, defended his record while his opponent, Charles P. Taft, in Akron, criticized Lausche's fiscal record.

Bricker admitted his party has a difficult job in the current campaign because the country is "acclimated to the administration."

"THE PARTY in power has spent five million dollars to condition the public to its way of thinking," Bricker told a GOP rally.

He told voters the present campaign was the last chance for them to save the Republican Party. Bricker also warned against what he called the continuing drift to socialism in the country.

DiSalle boarded the campaign train of Gov. Stevenson for a swing through Northern Ohio. Stevenson spoke at stops in Elyria, Toledo and Sandusky.

DiSalle left the train, however, to speak in Kent where he criticized Bricker's record before Kent University students.

DiSalle said Bricker fought and voted against rent controls, price controls, low-cost housing, anti-monopoly legislation, setting up of the Senate Business Committee, and a majority of the government's reorganization plans based on Hoover Commission recommendations.

In New Philadelphia, Lausche responded to his opponent's criticism of him. Taft had said the governor used "theatrical gestures" rather than effective enforcement in gambling situations. Said Lausche:

"You cannot make charges that are not borne out by the facts and get away with it. Whenever rank and extravagant charges are made, we must remember that the public has intelligence and is able to judge what is false."

IN AKRON, Taft criticized what he called the governor's claim that he alone was responsible for the state's financial condition. He said the governor claimed a $13 million saving in general revenue appropriations in the last fiscal year. Said Taft:

"I want to point out that more than three million of that amount was the result of understaffing in mental institutions, six million of it had been voted for old age pensions and not distributed, four million was appropriated but not applied for subsidies to Ohio schools."

HST Says Nixon Is Anti-Labor

Coal, Steel Men Told: 'Look Out, Neighbor!'

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 23—(P)—President Truman Thursday denounced Richard M. Nixon as "anti-labor" and declared his party's leaders "hate labor unions and would like to destroy them."

Appealing for Democratic votes in West Virginia's soft coal and steel region, Truman made one of his rare attacks on the GOP vice presidential candidate and declared that the Taft-Hartley Act "can wreck the American labor movement."

Truman said GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower "picked one of the most anti-labor men in Congress to be his running mate."

The Chief Executive said a provision in the original Hartley bill of 1947, banning industry-wide bargaining, was dropped out of the final version of the Taft-Hartley Act, "but it has not been forgotten."

"The congressman who made the concluding argument on the floor of the House of Representatives in favor of the Hartley bill in 1947 was a young man who showed real promise as a leader in the battle against labor—Rep. Nixon of California."

"HE LIVED up to that promise so well that he was promoted this summer to run for vice president on the Republican ticket."

"Look out, neighbor!"

"Now, the Republican candidate for President does not have much of a record on labor questions. But he picked one of the most anti-labor men in the Congress to be his running mate. And he said that if he (Eisenhower) had been President this year he would have tried to get an injunction in the steel case. He would have applied this useless and unfair procedure without regard to the merits of the dispute."

"Look out, neighbor!"

"There are still men who hate labor unions and would like to destroy them. And I have no hesitation in telling you where they are politically. They are a powerful group within the Republican Party."

"Look out, neighbor!"

Court Shuns Rap At Ohio Ballot

COLUMBUS, Oct. 23—(P)—The state supreme court Wednesday rejected a request to declare Ohio's presidential ballot unconstitutional.

Willard Robinson of Columbus, secretary of the Ohio Prohibition Party, sought to have the ballot banned because it does not provide space for write-in votes for presidential electors.

No Compromise Expected From Either Side

Acheson Is Slated To Ask Body To OK West's Truce Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Oct. 23—(P)—The future life of the United Nations organization hangs in the balance as the 60-nation body opens debate on the crucial Korean war issue.

Most international government observers here expressed the opinion that whether UN goes the way of the ill-fated League of Nations just after World War I may well be determined within the next few weeks.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was to lead off a full-fledged debate on Korea Thursday in the powerful UN Political Committee.

Primed with a detailed report on the deadlocked truce negotiations at Panmunjom, Acheson was to speak soon after the group got down to business on its explosive nine-item agenda.

One U. S. spokesman said Acheson will "open up the whole book" on Korean truce negotiations. He said the secretary would make public many hitherto secret diplomatic maneuvers which have taken place at Panmunjom and elsewhere in an effort to end the Korean war.

American delegation sources said the secretary would wind up with a resolution urging the General Assembly to approve the armistice terms of the UN Command at Panmunjom and to appeal to the Communists to accept those terms without further delay.

ACHESON SERVED notice at the beginning of this year's assembly session that the U. S. and its allies will fight on in Korea "until a just peace is achieved."

He indicated that the Americans would ask other UN members to pour in more men, money and material to carry on this fight if the Red Chinese and North Koreans did not accept the UN truce terms.

The debate promises to be the bitterest ever fought out in the halls of the U. N. Russia and her bloc already are pitted not to budge from their opposing stand, particularly regarding the repatriation of prisoners of war, the main issue holding up the truce.

With both sides already committed not to compromise, the world's diplomats have predicted in the gravest tones that the life of the UN depends entirely on a settlement on the Korean question.

Observers felt certain the debate would stretch out at least until after the U. S. presidential elections Nov. 4. Britain and France, though expressing eagerness to rally behind the Americans in the Korean discussion, were expected to hold off their big speeches until Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman arrive. Both ministers delayed coming to the UN meeting until after the U. S. voting.

Russia fought bitterly Wednesday to give debate priority to a Polish omnibus resolution which wrapped up the Korean question in a package along with other Communist proposals regarding world tensions.

The Russian demand was overwhelmingly defeated, 44 to 5, with four abstentions. The five lone votes came from the Soviet bloc.

Woman Treasurer Shortage, $6,691

CHAUNCEY, O., Oct. 23—Findings for recovery of $6,691 were made against Miss Betty Pincelli, former treasurer of this town, and the Travelers Indemnity Co. of Hartford, Conn., sureties for Miss Pincelli.

The discovery was made several weeks ago when auditors checked her accounts. She pleaded guilty to an embezzlement charge and was sentenced to the Marysville Reformatory.

Boosters Club Plans Banquet

Progress Reported On Whirl Bath

A post-season banquet, with the members of the WHS football squad, the coaches and managers as the honor guests, today became a definite project of the recently organized Boosters Club.

The question was brought up at Wednesday night's regular weekly meeting at the Cherry Hotel. When virtually every comment was in favor of it, a committee was named by Paul Pennington, the president, to start making plans. Harold Rodecker is the chairman and the other members are Ben Wright, Don Gibson, L. M. Hayes, Walter Rettig, Rex Wickersham, Charles Dunton, Robert Terhune, William Himmelsbach, Coach Fred Jacoby and Father Richard J. Connelly.

During the discussion and the committee meeting later, it was brought out that efforts would be made to bring in a nationally known speaker, possibly a football player of renown. No names were mentioned out loud, although several were suggested.

The banquet is to be limited to members of the Boosters Club which now numbers 315, but it was explained that this had to be done because there were limits to the accommodations for such gatherings. It was pointed out that the 315 Boosters and approximately 60 members of the squad would just about fill any hall here.

THE MORE THAN 100 Boosters at Wednesday night's meeting were shown the motion pictures of the game last Friday night at Wilmington and then Coach Fred Jacoby gave a "chalk talk" in which he outlined some of the basic plays used by the Dayton Kiser team, which is to come here Friday night to meet the Lions of WHS.

The coach also gave some hints on what the Lions would do to try to stop the Kiser offense and penetrate its defenses.

The club got what one of the officers called a "break" in its efforts to provide a whirl bath for injured athletes in any sport.

Walter Fults, reporting for the committee working on the whirl bath, said the Morton Show Case Co. had come up with a plan to provide the stainless steel needed for the tank at reduced cost and that the workmen there had offered their services in its construction without charge. And, that brought a lot of complimentary remarks for the workers from the group.

The pictures of the squad are to remain in the window of Porter's Pastries until the end of the season, the club decided.

to investigate the possibilities having what was termed a "courtesy week" in the high school. Such a week, it was explained, would place emphasis on courtesy with the hope that me of it would continue. On the committee were named Loren Cartwright, chairman, Jim Newbrey, Eddie Ford, Sally Howard, Sarah Core and Elizabeth Carson.

CONGESTION in the hall of the high school, due to increasing enrollment, came up for considerable discussion, too. A committee headed by Ronnie Meyer was named to seek a solution. Other members of the committee are Tom Swain, Linda Matthews, Bob Swackhamer and Janice Kelly.

Joe Provost, a member of the football squad as well as of the student council, told at the meeting that Coach Fred Pierson was bringing his Marietta High School football squad here for the WHS Dayton Kiser game Friday night. He asked that the students of the high school and the people of the city, show the Marietta boys the same hospitality that had been shown the Lions when they went to Marietta to see a game three weeks ago. He said he understood that the Marietta boys planned to stay overnight here and that most of them would stay with members of the WHS squad.

IN ORDER TO GET a better line on high school chapel period and assemblies, a questionnaire, listing several key questions concerning programs, was authorized. Gene Ford is the chairman of the committee named to handle the survey. Others on the committee are Betty Roberts, Jo Davis and Dick Dawson.

The council meeting was presided over by Jon Pensyl, the president.

The student council is made up of representatives of the six grades of the junior and senior high schools.

Just before the meeting adjourned, the council made an appeal to the students to "stay out of trouble on Halloween."

Meaning of Our Government Debt Threat

The next president will head an administration with a tremendous debt problem. In 18 months, ended June 1 of this year, the treasury cashed in $2,200,000,000 more government bonds than it sold.

The treasury then increased interest on bonds to make them more attractive. But in the four months following the interest raise the treasury has cashed in nearly $500,000,000 more of bonds than it sold.

But the spenders have created the debt, and the American people will have no alternative but to pay it. The more the debt is financed through the banks, the more inflation and the higher prices go. The people eventually will be in the position of being compelled to rescue a government which squandered a great deal of money and neglected, for fear of political repercussions, to levy the taxes to pay the costs.

This debt, which citizens should be carrying for their self-protection, is a drag on American dynamism. As more private money goes into bonds, there is less available for venture capital by which enterprises are expanded to employ more people.

In addition to balancing the budget, the government should have at least several billions every year to apply on the debt. Constantly increasing, it is a threat to the nation's well-being.

Right Of Choice

Some of the professors and pundits are challenging the assertion that the so-called apathy of the citizen on voting day is wicked. They argue the citizen has the right to vote and the right not to vote.

It is only in totalitarian countries that the right not to vote is non-existent. In those countries everyone goes to the polls and marks his ballot for the dictator, or else. In this country people mark their ballots for anybody they please or for nobody at all, and there is no "or else" about it.

Some do not vote because their favorite candidates lost out in the preliminaries, others because their party is heavily outnumbered in the state or county in which they live. And there are probably a great many who are allergic to the excesses of campaigning and are saving their votes for a time when they really want to express a protest.

Vanishing Horse

Except on the race tracks and at rodeos, horses are seldom seen today. They have ceased to be a part of the traffic picture of cities, and down on the farm he has been all but displaced by tractor and truck.

A story in the Chicago Tribune portrays the fate of the metropolitan horse. There are 168 horses in Chicago today, compared to 58,000 in 1908. All are used by junk men and vegetable peddlers.

The proprietor of a horse livery for this trade says he will soon close up because horses trained to city traffic are no longer available, and wagons are no longer made. Most of his wagons are 40 or more years old.

Some horse lovers have become alarmed lest some equine breeds become extinct. Several breeds of horses now are being continued solely as a hobby by a few who can afford it.

He Paid Price for Martyrdom

By Saul Pett

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y.—(AP)—Every now and then an obscure little man rises up in wrath and smites the sounds and sights of a world that is too much for him.

In doing so, he becomes a hero to many of us who share his convictions but not his courage.

Such a man is Frank P. Walsh. Unable to submit any longer as a captive audience, he rebelled. He shot his television set. He shot it right through its 12 1/2-inch eye.

But Walsh paid the price of martyrdom. He lost his job. "And I'm still in my wife's doghouse," he said. "It's very cold."

Mrs. Walsh, mother of five children ranging in age from 5 to 15, can't explain her husband's precipitous action. "The set may have been on a little too loud," she conceded. "But always before, when he complained of the noise, I turned it down and that was that."

Mrs. Walsh looked forlornly at the empty corner of her living room so recently occupied by her television set.

Mourning her loss, Mrs. Walsh said television had become part of her life. It was her habit, she said, to turn it on at 10 in the morning for an early movie while she "cleaned up in the living and dining room."

From 11:30 to 12, she watched "Strike It Rich" while she got the kids' lunch ready. Then came "Bride and Groom," "Love of Life," "Search for Tomorrow."

"I almost always turned it off at 12:45 and didn't turn it on until 3 o'clock for just one-half hour of 'The Big Pay off,'" Mrs. Walsh said. "Then I kept it off until the early show movie came on at 6:15. From then on, I used to keep it on until I went to bed."

Now we come back to Frank Walsh, who is 38, tall and thin. He used to work nights for a private detective agency and by day he did odd electrical jobs.

Frank liked the fights and the detective stories. He had nothing against television except when it disturbed his sleep.

Several times before the fatal incident, he said, he had felt like shooting the set, when the sound shook his early evening naps.

"Finally," he said, "it happened. Sunday night I awoke hearing somebody scream, 'Hey, Abbott!' It was Abbott and Costello, and I got nothing against them. But I was mad not being able to sleep. I figured the easiest way was the quickest.

"I got my 38 Smith and Wesson. I walked out of the bedroom and leaned over the rail overlooking the sunken living room. My wife and all the kids were there.

"I told them to move over and then I fired from an angle, about 15 feet away. Caught the tube in the upper right corner. It exploded into a thousand little pieces but the glass didn't fly far. Nobody was hurt, but the TV set was ruined.

"I guess my wife got scared. She took the kids outside and called the cops. They came and saw I was sober. They took my pistol and pistol permit away.

"Now that it's over and I realize all I've done, I'm sorry I did it. I lost my job. You see, the detective agency employed me as an armed guard at an industrial plant. Without the gun permit, I'm useless to them. However, I'm still an electrician and I'm hoping I'll get more calls in that kind of work."

Mrs. Walsh said nothing. She just looked at the empty corner.

Ike Finds Politics Can Be Rough

By George Sokolsky

It must be shocking to General Eisenhower to discover that politics knows no decency and that politicians have no friends. Since 1941, he has been an active associate of two Democratic presidents who thought well enough of him to elevate him to high office and to set him before the world as a hero. Now they cannot vilify him sufficiently.

In 1948, these same Democrats wanted Eisenhower to run for president on the Democratic ticket. He was good enough for them then. It was even proposed that he have as his running mate Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

The socialistic ADA executive committee in that year, adopted a resolution for the Eisenhower-Douglas ticket at a meeting in Pittsburgh. The report is that Professor Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., currently Stevenson's monolithic brain trust, helped to prepare the document.

What has Eisenhower done since 1948 to earn the enmity of such men as A. A. Berle, Jr., Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., and Arthur Schlesinger? Apparently, his major crime was to accept the Republican rather than the Democratic nomination. Did this one fact change Eisenhower for better or for worse? Was his character of one nature in 1948 and of another in 1952? If Eisenhower had accepted the Democratic nomination in 1948 or in 1952, would these same men not be singing paeans to his virtue?

For instance, the master mind of the Stevenson nomination, Jake Arvey, said in 1948:

"Come convention time, I will vote for the man who comes closest to personifying the principles of our party and who can put them into effect. And by that I mean a man who can be elected. I hope General Eisenhower is available. He is the kind of a liberal with whom we could win, both nationally and locally."

Is Eisenhower less liberal in 1952 than he was in 1948? Arvey tried hard to get Eisenhower to run as a Democrat, which is his right. No man could have been more excessive in his praise. He said:

"Our advocacy of General Dwight D. Eisenhower for president of the United States developed from unmistakable indications that the people of this country wanted him to serve as president at this time. The people, regardless of political persuasion, obviously deem General Eisenhower to be peculiarly fitted to unite the nation and the world to the end that a lasting peace might be achieved."

But let us come closer. The United Press reported that Senator Paul Douglas stated on March 17, 1951 he wanted Eisenhower for president. He advocated as late as January 9, 1952 that both parties should nominate Eisenhower. What happened between January and July 1952 for Senator Douglas to have changed his mind about Eisenhower the man? Nothing could have happened, except that Eisenhower chose to run as a Republican and not as a Democrat. There was no change in his character, his appearance, his service to the nation, his ideas, his beliefs during those six months.

Yet, Senator Paul Douglas in January wanted both parties to nominate Eisenhower but after July opposed his election in favor of a man whose nomination he did not support until there was no alternative. It would be interesting if Paul Douglas explained what happened between January and July 1952 to effect so marked a change.

I have before me a volume of quotations from Democrats on the subject of Eisenhower. He must wonder why they now even doubt his right to his historical position of commander of our armies in World War II and commander and organizer of NATO. Surely, that cannot be taken from him even during this dirty campaign, for which many men will be ashamed when it is over.

The real answer is that in this country a presidential campaign has steadily degenerated. Candidates neither project nor defend issues; they neither support nor oppose principals of life, nor of national well-being. They just call each other names like little boys sticking their tongues out at each other.

The sneers against Richard Nixon, for instance, are outstanding examples of this sort of cheapness. For some unknown reason, the Democrats call him an anti-Semite. Whoever calls him that is a liar. Yet, it is being done every day. Maybe it is being done because he helped to send Alger Hiss to prison. Who knows what absurdities lurk in the irresponsible minds of name-calling politicians?

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The Russians protested Tuesday night that American authorities are "illegally and forcibly" holding many Soviet children in West Germany against their will and that of their parents.

The protest was made by Ivan F. Semichastnov, acting head of the Soviet Control Commission, to U. S. High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly.

Heart Trouble Now Has Fewer Restrictions

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Many people with heart trouble can handle a fair amount of freedom in their actions and eating habits. This does not appear to damage the heart, and certainly makes the patient happier and more optimistic.

For many years doctors have set strict rules telling the heart patient what he can and cannot do. In many cases these rules are very good, and should be followed. Often, however, too-strict adherence to rules over-plays their effectiveness. Many times they only add unnecessary distress.

For many years doctors have set strict rules telling the heart patient what he can and cannot do. In many cases these rules are very good, and should be followed. Often, however, too-strict adherence to rules over-plays their effectiveness. Many times they only add unnecessary distress and discomfort.

Smoking in Moderation

A good example is smoking. Sometimes, persons with any type of heart disease are advised to give up tobacco. However, many physicians agree that over a period of years most people with heart disease can smoke moderately without too much harm.

Recently, a study was made to find out if smoking puts any extra work on the heart. It was found that for many heart patients tobacco smoke causes relatively little change in the heart and blood vessels.

The majority of patients with inactive forms of heart disease can, as a rule, smoke to a moderate degree. Of course, this is not safe if they are sensitive to nicotine, or suffer from an active and recent heart attack. If person has definite heart failure, or active rheumatic heart disease, smoking should be forbidden.

It has also been shown that walking up stairs easily—very slowly and without trying to rush—is not too great a strain for most heart patients.

For Bed Patients

For the person who has to stay in bed, bed pans often are a special problem. Recently, a study has shown that, as a rule, a patient puts out more effort trying to use a bed pan than using a commode at the bedside.

Usually, a person with heart disease is immediately forbidden any salt in his food. The result is

Ohio Farmers Visit UN, See Top Politicians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A group of Ohio farmers, fresh from observing the United Nations in action, came here Wednesday to learn how the 1952 presidential campaign is being run.

The group, comprising more than 50 men and women of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, had appointments with Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell and Republican National Chairman Arthur Summerfield.

They also were scheduled for a foreign policy briefing by members of Secretary of State Dean Acheson's staff.

This is the second pilgrimage to Washington by a delegation representing the Ohio Farm Bureau.

During the spring, they conferred with members of the Ohio delegation in Congress and with key senators and congressmen of both parties. After completing their meeting schedule, the Ohioans will visit the White House, the Capitol and other points of interest. They return to Ohio Thursday by train.

Flanders Now In Ohio Pen

More Shortages Are Uncovered

Within six days after embezzlement finds were made against Don Flanders, the municipal clerk here, he was in the Ohio Penitentiary for the offense.

He was taken there Wednesday afternoon by Sheriff Orland Hays. At the same time, the sheriff took Kenneth Wilson to Fort Hayes where he was turned over to the army officials for being absent without leave.

Wilson had been placed on probation on charges of larceny and obtaining property under false pretense.

Additional check into the municipal court records brought to light further shortages of $83 this month, it is understood, bringing the total amount believed embezzled by Flanders to $3,005.90, which his bondsmen must pay to the city.

Flanders was sentenced to one to 21 years in prison, and fined $5,845.80, double the amount embezzled.

No part of the fine was suspended.

Sabina Man Is Found Not Guilty

Marion Eugene Dawson, Sabina, route 3, was found not guilty of speeding Wednesday, at a hearing before Judge R. L. Brubaker in municipal court.

Police had issued a warrant for Dawson's arrest after they allegedly had chased his car out the Wilmington Road at 83 miles per hour and could not overtake it.

Dawson testified that he was not in Washington C. H. at the time the offense was committed, and Judge Brubaker dismissed the case on the grounds that evidence was not sufficient to sustain the charge.

Man Sentenced

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23.—(P)—Federal Judge John H. Druffel sentenced Charles Marshall of Cincinnati to five years in prison Tuesday and fined him $100 after a jury found Marshall guilty of illegally acquiring marijuana.

Letters To Editor

Washington C. H., O.
Oct. 21, 1952

Editor,
Record-Herald
Dear Editor:

In less than two weeks millions of people will be going to the polls to vote. There are thousands who deliberately will not go. Why? Some are of sound mind, high principles, and strong convictions. Yet loyalty to a certain politician or to a particular platform will keep the voter away from the polls. Most of us are "born into a party." And party allegiance is a fine thing but when that allegiance becomes a loyalty to name rather than a principle then politics is defeating its purpose. Our forefathers built our country—not on platforms but on convictions. Through out the history of the United States those convictions have stood but the platforms have changed with the policies of the politicians supporting them.

Many of us have broken away from our family politics. That makes America. It shows people think for themselves—not as their father and mother thought. That isn't disloyalty to a conviction—it is only disloyalty to a platform. Which is more important? It is alarming that two attitudes seem so apparent this election. One "Oh well,—we are invincible,—nothing can touch us." And secondly, "Oh—what is the use, we are already licked." We are not licked—never as long as there are Christian individuals who aren't afraid to stand up and be counted. And those individuals are not invincible. They are tired, discouraged human beings but who will fail rather than give up the fight for democracy.

God bless them and help them and give them courage. I want to repeat what I stated in a talk recently. We have been under control—controlled prices, controlled rents, controlled liberties. Those controls have increased year by year, some of them are necessary in order to support many worthwhile programs. But many of them are an outgrowth of the "power to make controls."

But in spite of them all we have three great rights left. First, the right to speak, yell and shout out our convictions, any place and any time. Secondly, we have that glorious right to go into a private booth and vote for the man whom we feel will do the job best. Lastly and most important, we have the right to walk into that church of our choice and kneel at the altar and pray. Pray for the tired, discouraged fighters within our country. Pray for our boys fighting the war. Pray for the 16,000,000 youth of Russia who Communists say are "falling under the influence of religion!" Pray for those tortured in Iron Curtain who are trying to in still religion into the hearts of that youth. And pray that we, in the United States can look beyond platforms and wisely select people who will forever fight to protect these rights.

White House - Congress Relations By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—Harmonious and workable relationships between the White House and Congress will be more likely through the election of General Eisenhower, even if the legislative branch should remain in Democratic hands after Nov. 4. For some odd reason, this is an important factor which has been almost neglected by the GOP including Ike.

This conclusion does not derive from a partisan approach or a one-sided analysis of possibilities, since most veteran members of House and Senate agree, although not always for publication.

It is based on the actual voting records of the present membership, which has not enacted a single major Fair Deal measure, although the Democrats have had nominal control of the executive and legislative arms.

ANTAGONISM—In view of the realignment expected to result from the November decision, and Governor Stevenson's progressive endorsement of Truman's more extreme policies on domestic and foreign questions, it is probable that the next Congress will be more antagonistic to the Missouri man's heir than it would be toward a new personality in the White House.

Unfortunately, and only because he deemed it necessary in order to capture the support of certain elements in the electorate, Stevenson has had to take on Truman's opponents as well as friends inside and outside Congress. Again unfortunately for the Democratic nominee, the outgoing chief executive has made more enemies on Capitol Hill than any predecessor since Andrew Johnson, who escaped impeachment by a single ballot.

CONCLUSIVE PROOF — The congressional and presidential attitude toward the McCarran Immigration Act furnishes conclusive proof of that tragic fact. This legislation was endorsed by the National Catholic Welfare Conference, American Federation of Labor, American Legion and similar reputable organizations.

Almost as many Democrats as Republicans, including Stevenson's top campaign aides, voted for passage over a Truman veto.

And now, simply because Eisenhower is giving nominal endorsement to three GOP Senators who backed the bill, Truman horrifies the nation by denouncing Ike as "anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic." It must make Stevenson weep.

FRUSTRATING — A mathematical examination of the lineup in the next House and Senate furnishes courtroom proof of the theory that an Eisenhower election offers greater hope for breaking the long and dangerous between 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue and the eastern end of that famous deadlock thoroughfare.

The Republicans will have at least 44 members of the next Senate, and it is possible that they may command a majority. At least 20 men from the South usually vote with the GOP on most controversial matters.

It is this combination which has frustrated Truman almost since he took office, saving for many foreign aid measures. On this issue the southerners favor the Truman-Acheson program.

PERSONAL ATTACKS — Truman, and Stevenson by proxy, has antagonized at least a score of southern congressmen and governors by personal attacks on them. Although using more gentlemanly language in his foray into Dixieland, the Illinois governor has kept alive these feuds.

He has, contrary to his original campaign plan and hope, had to run as a sectional rather than a national leader. Otherwise, he might have forfeited the Missouri man's approval.

Thus, the anti-White House alliance, assuming that a Democratic sits in what Truman calls a "white jail," will become more rather than less formidable in a "Stevenson administration."

To paraphrase the accusation so frequently leveled at Ike by his two Presidential opponents, Stevenson would be the "captive" of a hostile, legislative group. And veteran members of Congress are not the kind of men who can be awed by threats or won over by a display of sweet reasonableness. Stevenson will find them far tougher than he did the Democratic members of the Illinois Legislature from Chicago.

PRACTICAL FEPC — Nor does the prospect of a White House-Congress understanding mean that the legislative clock will be turned backward. Indeed, it is possible that it may result in enactment of a batch of long-deferred but constructive measures although the final form may not satisfy extremists.

After years of futile presidential promises, a practical FEPC Act may be passed along the lines of the Republicans' and Southerners' demand — namely, federal action only in the event of state failure, and reliance upon education rather than compulsion. Likely also is a labor-management law that will establish a healthier balance among the conflicting interests, including the consumers.

Federal assistance in the fields of health and education, although not in the manner vainly insisted on by Truman, may be forthcoming. However, the states and local communities rather than Washington will decide on policies and spending. The Taft faction, although it is not generally appreciated, has always been ready to make these compromises.

In short, these great problems may be settled instead of being juggled in the political air for the sake of preserving vote-getting issues.

About 69 1/4 million people of the United States live in 137 urbanized areas which include cities of 50,000 or more and their suburbs.

Ex-FBI Aide Accepts Dare In Red Probe

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23—(P)—Cecil D. Scott, former FBI undercover agent, Wednesday accepted a challenge to repeat charges "without legislative immunity" that Jack Methard, former secretary of the CIO Political Action Committee here, is a Communist.

Methard, following release of Scott's testimony by the Ohio Un-American Activities Commission Tuesday, threatened Scott with a slander and defamation of character charge.

The Record-Herald Thurs., Oct. 23, 1952 9

"I don't want it to appear that I am hiding behind immunity," Scott said. "I will meet Methard any time and at any place he designates and repeat the charge that he is or was a Communist."

Three other persons accused of Red connections by Scott also issued denials.

They are Hugo Ernst, general president of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders International Union; Jerry Maxey, business representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, Cincinnati District Council 51, and Ernest Waits, radio disc jockey and former candidate for the state legislature.

Prices of Pork Down Slightly

Eggs And Vegetables Go A Little Higher

By The Associated Press
Retail pork prices were trimmed in many markets this week as supplies increased. Some cuts of beef also were lower.

Eggs advanced as much as eight cents a dozen. Fresh fruits and vegetables showed little overall change.

Declining wholesale costs of pork made such items as loin roasts, pork chops and spare ribs popular choices for special pricing during the next few days, with reductions amounting to around 6 cents a pound. Smoked hams and butts also were lower in some places.

Cattle marketings also were heavy, and rib roasts, steaks and ground beef were shopping features in several markets. Other meat items prominent on the lists of specials included small turkeys and frying chickens.

MEDIUM EGGS led in the price rise this week, reflecting a swing in both dealer and consumer buying to that size and away from the scarcer large eggs.

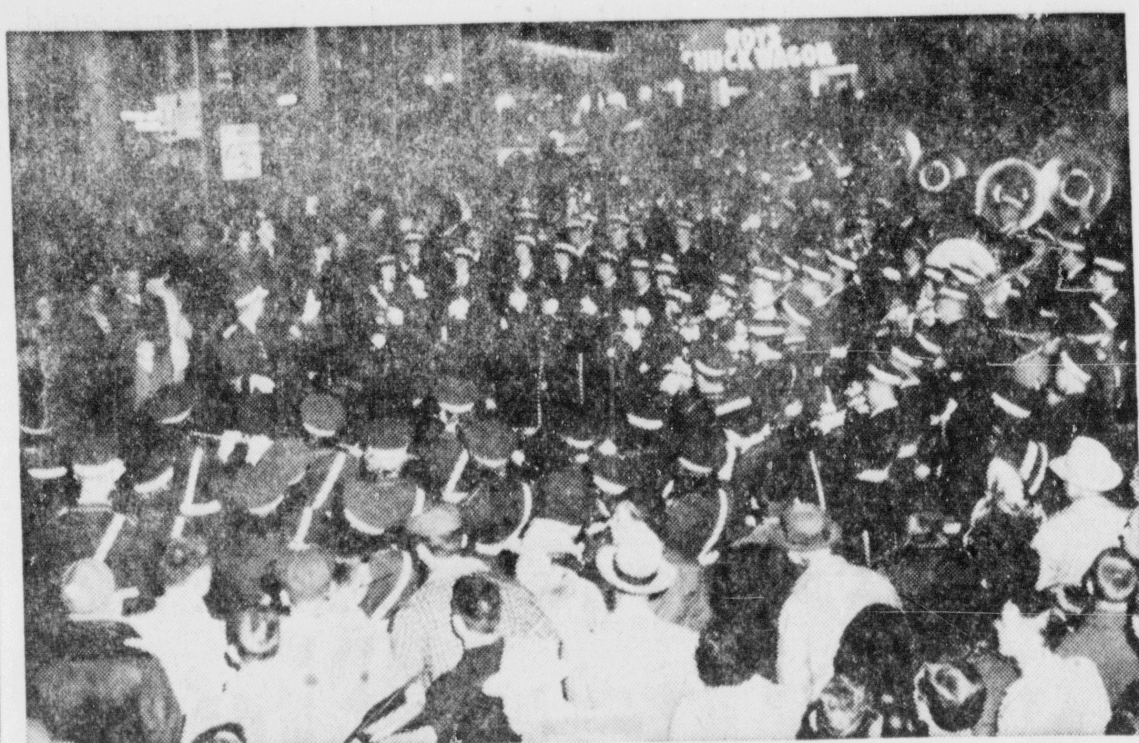

A few fresh vegetables worked a little higher as supplies from nearby growing sections fell off seasonally and shipments had to come from farther afield. Limas, snap beans, brussels sprouts, carrots, cucumbers, eggplant, peppers and tomatoes all were a little higher. Still abundant and low-priced in most places were beets, cabbage, spinach, winter squash and cauliflower. Lettuce, broccoli and western celery were cheaper.

In fruits, most grapes were lower, along with citrus fruits and avocados. Several types of melons remained moderately priced.

Apples were a shade higher in some wholesale markets, but with National Apple Week beginning Thursday, many retailers advertised special apple promotions at reduced prices.

Among Pennsylvania miner products are gold, lime, iron ore, natural gas, peat, petroleum, copper, graphite, mica, soapstone and building stone.

Washington C. H. High School Band gave a concert Wednesday night at Pumpkin Show in Circleville at the main intersection (above) following the parade of half a dozen high school bands. The Madison Mills band was entered in the afternoon parade and also gave a concert afterward. In the evening parade with the Washington C. H. band were those from Circleville, Greenfield, Ashland, Lancaster and Jackson. This picture was taken by Record-Herald photographer Don Bandy with only the street lights. (Record-Herald photo)

Taft Sees Million Dixiecrats For Ike

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 23—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft says he's confident that "millions of Southern Democrats" will vote for Dwight D. Eisenhower "because they, like Virginia's Sen. Byrd, are opposed to President Truman's policies of all-powerful government domination."

Taft expressed "the greatest respect" for Byrd, who last week declined to support Gov. Adlai Stevenson. The Ohio Republican called the Virginia Democrat's speech "one of the clearest, frankest statements" of the campaign. In his talk, Byrd refused to endorse Stevenson, but he made no mention of Eisenhower or the Republicans.

Tests prove that homemakers can save as much as 35 per cent energy by sitting down while ironing.

Congressman Addresses High School Students

OLIVER IDEN, PRESIDENT of the Bloomingburg High School senior class shakes hands with Rep. James Polk after the congressman had addressed a special assembly Wednesday afternoon. Gathered around for a chat with the Ohio lawmaker are four other seniors, all in the government class. They are (left to right) Patsy Harper, Dean Hawk, Iden, Rep. Polk, Joan Cleland and Ruth Jones. (Record-Herald photo)

Students in the four high schools of Fayette County Wednesday had the opportunity not only of hearing and seeing a real, honest-to-goodness congressman, but also got to talk with him informally.

Rep. James Polk, who represents this, the sixth, district in the national Congress went to all four schools to address the special assemblies. He started his tour early in the morning and did not finish it until closing time in the afternoon.

He said he was encouraged by the interest the young people showed in government and the democratic processes. Most of his talk—and it followed the same pattern at all four schools—was centered on describing the congressional procedures. He brought copies of bills and laws to show the students just what they look like.

Rep. Polk is a Democrat and a candidate for reelection at the Nov. 4 election. His home is at Highland, about 20 miles south of Washington C. H.

Point Totals Lowered For Korean Vets

TOKYO, Oct. 23.—Gen. Mark Clark, under Pentagon pressure, Wednesday reversed an order requiring battle front troops to stay in the line 9½ months before they are eligible for rotation home. The time remains at nine months, or 36 points under the Army's system.

But Clark said rear area troops in Korea and those in Japan would have to serve longer than previously because of a lag in replacements. No specific point quota was announced. Clark earlier had set it at 38.

Clark's statement was issued after Secretary of Defense Lovett said in Washington the Pentagon tain the age of 21 years, but are eligible to hold local offices, and eligible to run for Congress at 25 years and the U. S. Senate at 30 years of age.

He explained the duties of the various branches of government—executive, legislative and judicial. During his addresses he said that each state is entitled to two senators and that the number of congressmen is regulated by population, and entitled to 23 congressmen.

The districts may be changed every 10 years, based on increase or shift in population.

Discussing the present public debt of 255 billions of dollars, he said the debt had been reduced $14.5 billion since the peak of $269.5 billions was reached a few years ago.

The national income, based on figures of the first quarter of this year, is $325 billion, he said.

had overruled Clark's Sept. 17 order requiring 38 instead of 36 points for rotation.

The Army gives four points a month for time in the battle line. It gives three points monthly to troops serving immediately behind the front and two points a month to troops far to the rear. Troops in Japan get one point monthly if their families are with them, 1½ points monthly otherwise.

"Permanent solution to the problem of rotation," Clark said, "depends upon the arrival of replacements from the United States, for it is obvious that departures cannot exceed arrivals if combat efficiency is to be maintained."

GATE IS CLOSED

HILLSBORO—The third gate on the 2,300 acre Rocky Fork Lake Dam has been closed, starting the impounding of water in the reservoir. It may be next spring before the lake is filled, depending upon the amount of rainfall in the interval.

Football Score Board Here Is Still Missing

There will be no score board to keep track of the time, the score or the downs when the Lions of WHS meet the gridders of Kiser High School in Dayton at Gardner Park here Friday night.

But, the inconvenience comes through no lack of effort by school officials; neither is it because of any lack of preparedness.

The big automatic electric clock and score board went out just before the Monroe game here Sept. 26.

The intricate mechanism was boxed up and shipped by motor freight back to the factory in Webster City, Ind., the next day, Sept. 27.

It has not reached the manufacturer yet—it was lost in transit. When nothing was heard from the factory—no acknowledgement of arrival of the mechanism—with in a reasonable period of time, a call was made to check. It was then learned for the first time that it had been lost.

THE FACTORY had assured school officials that the repairs could be made and the mechanism returned for installation within two weeks.

It was felt certain that it would be running again after the two weeks in which the Lions played at Hillsboro and Wilmington.

But, it has not even reached the factory yet.

Once it was learned that it had been lost in transit, the search was started. It has been traced first to Ft. Dodge, Ia., and later to Webster, La., which is about 200 miles from Webster City. That's where it was on Oct. 10, and that's where the trail was lost again.

Before the season opened, the score board was put in operation and tested thoroughly. It worked smoothly then and throughout the opening game with Linden-McKinley.

The next week, the Lions played at Xenia and then just before their game here with Monroe, the score board went haywire in the routine pre-game test.

Electricians here were called into consultation. They looked it over and advised school officials that they had better call in an expert. That was tried, but there was none, so it was started on a ill-fated trip to the factory and has not been seen since.

County Sanitarian At Health Meeting

Charles Jones, the sanitarian of the Fayette County Health Department, is in Cleveland this week attending the convention of the American Public Health Association.

Before he left, Jones said he expected to learn more about the latest developments in public health methods, especially those concerned with sanitation. He said he planned to select those sessions which appeared most likely to take up questions of interest to communities such as this and attend them.

Physicians, scientists and leaders in public health came to the association's annual meetings from all over the country, Jones said, and added that they always have something new to offer.

The Fayette County sanitarian also said he considered the exchange of ideas with sanitarians from other places very beneficial.

Government Calls Strike, Joe Says

OAK HILL, W. Va., Oct. 23.—(AP)—"The first strike ever called by the government," is the way Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy refers to the walkout of some 322,000 soft coal miners.

"It's the first time that the men and the companies have gotten together only to have government come in and call a strike," he said in a speech Tuesday. The Wisconsin Republican was referring to a walkout by the miners after the Wage Stabilization Board cut 40 cents off the $1.90 daily wage increase they recently won.

Alger Hiss Eligible For Parole Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Alger Hiss, one of the side-issues of the presidential campaign, becomes eligible for parole Nov. 21, but he has made no move toward getting out of prison.

AN ADVENTURE THRILLER OF THE SOUTH SEAS, "Hurricane Smith", has been booked for the State Theater here for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The three leading characters are shown in the above scene from the picture in which Yvonne De Carlo uses a gun to quell a vicious fight between James Craig and John Ireland. The picture is in Technicolor.

The U. S. Parole Board said the 47-year-old former State Department official, serving a five-year term for perjury in Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary, has not yet filed an application with it.

Youthful Bandit Robs Bank In Ada

ADA, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A youthful, masked man held up the First National Bank of Ada Wednesday with a sawed-off shotgun, escaping with a suitcase full of cash. The amount of his loot was not determined immediately.

So quiet was the holdup even the bank's clerical staff in a room adjoining the banking room was unaware what was going on. Lester Bame, assistant cashier, said the young man looked like a college student.

Corporations Show Increased Profits

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Profits are on the upgrade again if the first companies to report prove typical.

The first 45 corporations to announce their net earnings after taxes for the July, August and September quarter show profits of 29 running ahead of the same period profits 15.4 per cent higher than in 1951 and the 45 having combined the third quarter last year.

Lions Hold Scrimmage As Part of Preparation For Kiser Game Friday

If Wednesday evening's practice is any indication, there may be more aerial football Friday night when the Lions of WHS meet the boys from Dayton Kiser than in any other game in which the Lions have played this season.

Most of the workout was devoted to work on defense against the forward passes which the Kiser boys are known to use pretty effectively.

And, anticipating a bit of difficulty in penetrating the big and rugged Kiser line, the Lions also put in considerable time on polishing up their own passing attack. Bob Alkire was doing most of the pitching, but the air offense was given some deception and variety by the tossing of the other members of the backfield.

Kiser's Bucky Staggs is considered one of the top forward passers among Ohio high school boys and the Lions are taking no chances of letting that threat go without some special preparation.

Up to now, the Lions have scored enough touchdowns to relieve the worry about the extra points. But, it may be different in Friday night's game; so, Alkire and Carl Smith spent a lot of time at place kicking practice.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, the Lions indulged in their first real scrimmage in some time—and they had a lot of fun and liked it.

Head Coach Fred Jacoby and Backfield Coach Curt Koons gave them about a half hour of rock 'em and sock 'em football in the hope of improving the timing and coordinating the backfield and line play.

Coach Jacoby said the blocking was "a little ragged" in the game at Wilmington in spite of the 7-5 victory. He commented that raggedness in blocking against the Kiser team could end the WHS win streak.

On the defense, sharp and sure tackling was stressed.

Scouts who have seen the Kiser outfit in action have noted in their reports that "it's a good sized team and tough." They said, too, that its record of two wins in six games is not indicative of weakness, but rather indicative of the hard schedule it has had. Two of Kiser's opponents have been among the top ten schools in state—Springfield, the No. 1 outfit, and Chaminade, rated No. 5, right behind the Lions.

Friday night's game has been indicated to the parents of the boys who carry on the fight for WHS honors on the gridiron—the mothers and fathers who sit through the games with pride and anxiety.

This has been tagged "Parents Night" and elaborate pre-game ceremonies have been arranged by Bandmaster William B. Clift, Jr., and Thomas Mansell, who wrote the script.

The parents are to be escorted on the field by the Lions from the east gate to special seats set aside for them. As they move across the field they are to be introduced by Mansell over the loud speaker system.

For the ceremonies, the band is to form a big MOM and POP on the field while playing appropriate music.

Good Time Due For Final Race

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 23.—(P)—Good Time, greatest money winning harness horse of all time, races for the last time in the $15,000 invitational farewell race at Yonkers Raceway Thursday night.

The son of Hal Dale goes into a final race with earnings of $312,042.86. He won $103,549.10 of his total this year—also a record for yearly earnings by a pacer or trotter. Named to face the speedy pacer are Thomas B. Scott, Highland Ellen, Major Hal, Prince Adios and Mr. Dean.

Buckeyes Ready For Iowa Joust

COLUMBUS, Oct. 23.—(P)—The Ohio State University football squad will go through a short workout Thursday prior to their departure to Iowa City for the game Saturday against the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Wednesday, Coach Woody Hayes had the Bucks polishing their defense and punting. He indicated John Borton may be toeing the ball this weekend instead of Bill Peterson, reserve quarterback. Bob Grimes also will be ready to play against Iowa. Grimes bruised his leg Tuesday.

AP Guesspert Found Correct 19 Out Of 24

He Gives Predictions, Admits 10 Of Them May Be Bad Guesses

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
AP SPORTS WRITER

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(P)—A seasonal average of 781 means that of every 24 selections, 19 are correct. It also means that five are wrong. There's no indication which 10 "winners" of the following college football games this weekend are incorrect.

Michigan State over Penn State: Penn State is unbeaten and has an outstanding end in Jesse Arnell. But Michigan State should preserve its No. 1 ranking with absolute ease.

Maryland over ESU: Maryland's nickname and mascot is that of a turtle. In the fable the turtle always goes there first.

Oklahoma over Kansas State: If Kansas couldn't stop the Sooners, the K-Staters certainly aren't strong enough to do it.

ILLINOIS over Purdue: Your Saturday afternoon TV feast. The Illinois hospital list is long but the homecoming enthusiasm should be just enough to get them past the ambitious Boilermakers.

Southern California over California: The Trojan defense, fourth best in the country, to shackle Johnny Olszewski & Company.

Georgia Tech over Vanderbilt: Vanderbilt had been good for an upset a year since Bill Edwards became coach but this doesn't appear to be the spot for it.

Duke over Virginia: Two unbeaten teams with potent defenses and everything indicates it should be a 21-21 deadlock. Duke's superior reserves get the nod.

Wisconsin over UCLA: In the belief that Alan (The Horse) Ameche will bust loose for a big day.

Notre Dame over North Carolina: That two-week polo layout hurt Carolina's timing and now that the Irish have shown a passing attack they will be tough.

Penn over Navy: You must favor the team that lists Ed Bell on its roster. He is a letter-perfect end.

Texas over Rice: You can't ever be sure of anything in the Southwest Conference. However, the Longhorns have lost only to Notre Dame and Oklahoma.

Finishing the others:

Friday Night—Fordham over Boston College, Miami over Marquette, VMI over George Washington, Santa Clara over Idaho.

Saturday—East: Columbia over Army, Amherst over Wesleyan, Maine over Bates, Boston University over Lehigh, Colgate over Bucknell, Connecticut over Delaware, Dartmouth over Harvard, Holy Cross over Syracuse, Temple over NYU, Princeton over Cornell, Rutgers over Brown, Pittsburgh over West Virginia, Yale over Lafayette.

Midwest: Oklahoma A & M over Detroit, Indiana over Northwestern, Missouri over Iowa State, Michigan over Minnesota, Colorado over Nebraska, Ohio State over Iowa, Tulsa over Wichita.

South: Furman over Davidson, Florida State over North Carolina State, Cincinnati over Kentucky Alabama over Mississippi State, The Citadel over Presbyterian, William & Mary over Richmond, Auburn over Tulane, Georgia over Florida, VPI over Washington & Lee, Tennessee over Wofford.

Southwest: Houston over Arizona State, Arizona over Hardin Simons, Mississippi over Arkansas, Baylor over Texas A & M.

Far West: Colorado A & M over Utah State, Brigham Young over Denver, Oregon over Montana, Washington State over Oregon State, Utah over Wyoming, Stanford over Washington.

STUDENTS HELD

BATAVIA—Charged with malicious destruction of property by setting fire to corn shocks, two Milford High School students will be given hearings before the mayor. Both are free on $1,000 bonds.

Bivins Awarded Split Decision

ST LOUIS, Oct. 23.—(P)—Short, stocky Jimmy Bivins, fighting true to form, overpowered a game but inexperienced Wes Bascom for a split decision Wednesday night in their 10-round heavyweight encounter in St. Louis Arena.

The 32-year-old power punching veteran from Cleveland was the aggressor all the way, whipping stinging punches to Bascom's head and body with either hand.

Michigan Shows Leading Offense

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(P)—Michigan tops the Big Ten in total offense with an average of 57 yards per play.

For the first time since the second game of the 1951 season, Wisconsin has been forced to relinquish its lead in the total offense department. The Badgers remain the No. 1 league team in total defense by yielding 230 yards per game, 79 less than second-place Ohio State.

Akron Votes End To Rent Control Law

AKRON, Oct. 23.—(P)—Akron went off rent controls Wednesday despite a government order classifying the nation's rubber capital as a "critical defense area."

A heavily industrialized city of some 275,000, Akron is the first "critical" area in Ohio to take this action. But a number of other Ohio cities are considering doing the same thing.

Classification as a critical area by the government automatically restores rent controls.

However, Akron's city council decided, 10 to 3, Tuesday that there is no serious housing shortage here and removed controls for the second time in a month.

The law permits this, but the federal government reserves the right to reverse the decision.

Like Akron, cities such as Warren, Canton, Massillon and Alliance had either allowed controls to die Oct. 1 or killed them by local action, only to be placed under the critical defense category.

Massillon has been off rent controls since February of 1951.

David Dowd, chairman of the laws and claims committee of that city, says the federal government estimates rents there have gone up 50 per cent since decontrol. Dowd thinks a more accurate figure would be 25 to 30 per cent.

Air Service For Ohio Seen Coming Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(P)—Local air service, long-sought by Ohio cities, apparently is just around the corner.

Albert F. Grisard, attorney for Lake Central Airlines, Inc., said Wednesday negotiations are underway to turn over management of the line to a trustee, pending final sale.

Grisard said he expects such a temporary arrangement to be processed by the Civil Aeronautics Board within 45 days.

Then the board can issue a permit for Lake Central to operate over routes it requested through Ohio more than two years ago.

Present owners of Lake Central have agreed to sell out to Wisconsin Central Airlines, Inc., and the CAB has been asked to approve that sale.

The board gave the present owners of Lake Central 30 days to propose a temporary arrangement under which the line can operate until its sale can be approved by CAB. At that time, the new owners would take over the expanded Lake Central routes.

Grisard said such a proposal probably will be filed well before the 30 days are up.

Lake Central's proposed new

Democrat Paper To Back General

BOSTON, Oct. 23.—(P)—The Boston Post, which describes itself as "an independent newspaper with a long Democratic tradition," has endorsed Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for President.

In a front page editorial, the paper said: "As we see it, there are three or four paramount issues. The first is Communism. We don't intend to imply in any way that Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, is in favor of Communism. But we don't like his association in this campaign with pinks who have the super-liberal outlook."

B&PW Is Given Assignment For Big Celebration

Club Takes Charge Of Sesquicentennial Exploitation Job

Exploitation features of the Sesquicentennial celebration and preliminary plans covering this important part in the event in Fayette County, will be in the hands of the Business and Professional Women's Club here.

This was decided at the meeting of the club Tuesday evening. While the whole club organization will assist in this project, its Sesquicentennial committee will have direct charge. This committee consists of Miss Kathleen Stookey, chairman; Mrs. Loreah O'Brian, Miss Adah Rechenbach, Miss Faye Nelson, Mrs. Helen Graham and Mrs. Ethelyn James.

Ralph Penn, general chairman of the Sesquicentennial organization for this county, has announced that the duties of this committee are regarded as one of the most vital jobs in the functioning of the entire organization.

The exploitation features in part consist of the distribution and sale of all items identified with the celebration on which money is to be raised to help finance the entire celebration project. The committee will take charge of the sale of the Fayette County history and of the souvenir programs.

One of the first duties assigned to the B&PW committee will be the designing of an "official" dinner plate, also a special adhesive sticker for use on the backs of letters. These are to be sold to the public.

It is stated also that there will be other trinkets, souvenirs, etc., to be offered by the club to help in the financing.

Penn says that since many organizations in Fayette County desire to have a part in this money raising project, this committee has adopted a plan that any organization or club may participate on a cooperative basis.

The B&PW committee also will act as a clearing agency so that there will not be any overlapping of exploitation ideas between various clubs in Fayette County. To bring about the cooperation of all organizations, it is suggested that any clubs which want to assist in the sale of various items this committee will offer, are to contact Miss Kathleen Stookey, 525 Gregg Street.

Another important appointment has been made. Mrs. Charles Hurtt president of the city PTA Council, will be chairman of the Queen Contest Committee. She will work through the various PTO groups in the city and the PTO in the county and villages.

Convention Debate

every two years. There should be a fairer reapportionment of representatives. Election methods could be improved. There should be real home rule for cities and counties. Ohio's constitution needs house-cleaning.

THE NEGATIVE SPEAKERS on holding a constitutional convention were Richard Blackburn, chairman of legislative affairs of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, and Edward Garretson, district field manager of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. They had the ready answers. The best methods of constitutional amendment are: submission of proposed amendments by the Legislature; or submission of proposed amendments to the people by initiative petition. Amendments to strengthen "Home Rule" can be accomplished under the present constitution. Legislative apportionment is fair and equitable. Cities have predominant strength in the Ohio Senate and equal consideration in the House of Representatives. Our constitution which is 100 years old, has been clarified by judicial decisions, implemented by the Legislature, and amended periodically by vote of the people. It has stood the test of time. The convention method is cumbersome and expensive and not likely to stand the test of time. It might be compromised on the basis of vote-getting and pressure, rather than founded on principle. The proposed appointment of judges would deprive the people of their right to elect those who pass judgment on their personal liberties and property rights.

IT WAS DURING the rebuttal by the affirmative side that the fireworks began when a number of lawyers present began firing questions from the floor. Many voices were heard at one time. Confusion seemed imminent until the president, Mrs. Craig, announced that time was up and the class dismissed.

The beautiful historical film "This is My Ohio" was shown with Mrs. Craig, the narrator. The ushers, Mrs. John P. Case and Mrs. Walter Morrow, distributed literature to the departing guests.

age disposal plant here. The action had been requested by the state auditors, it was announced. The sum has been paid for some time for services required by the state Health Department, it was explained.

Application of the city board of education to have council adopt an ordinance prohibiting parking on the north side of Temple Street along the school grounds, and also to adopt an ordinance requiring motor vehicles to stop in the city while school busses are loading or unloading, was referred to the city manager and Police Chief, Valdemar Long.

APPLICATION OF James Chakares for repeal of the amusement tax the city levies, was read and filed. It was the sense of council that the tax stand as it is. City Manager Parkinson reported that only one bid had been received on the South Main Street and Vine Street sewer project. It was for $5,053.75, made by the Sugar Grove Sand and Gravel Co., of Lancaster, the company which built the last sanitary sewers in the city, he said.

The estimate, made a year ago, was for $4,573.75, but prices had advanced since that time, it was stated. Parkinson recommended accepting the bid. He was authorized to do so.

Council then adjourned and went into executive session, at which various matters pertaining to city business, including finances, were discussed.

Ike, Adlai Campaigns

paign in vote - heavy industrial areas.

Eisenhower already has announced that he will make his final campaign speech in Boston on Nov. 3. His schedule for the days immediately preceding is technically "open" so that he can move into cities where he can do his campaign the most good.

Stevenson, given a howling welcome in Buffalo, N. Y., doubled back toward Ohio Thursday for a major address which his campaign manager said will deal with Republican "smear tactics."

Wilson Wyatt, the Democratic presidential nominee's manager, talked of Stevenson's speech in Cleveland Thursday night as one of the most important of the campaign.

Stevenson is to speak in Cleveland Arena at 9 p. m. The address will be rebroadcast over CBS and Mutual radio networks an hour later—10 p. m.

IN BUFFALO Wednesday night, Stevenson sailed into Eisenhower and what he called the Republican "Old Guard" intent of blocking all progressive programs.

He accused Eisenhower of trying to perpetrate "a cruel hoax" by holding out hope "for swift release of those enslaved behind the Iron Curtain." He said the general made a "reckless proposal" to free Soviet-dominated people in Eastern Europe.

In an Aug. 25 speech at the American Legion Convention in New York, Eisenhower said the United States "can never rest—and we must so inform the world, including the Kremlin—until the enslaved nations of the world have in the fullness of freedom the right to choose their own path."

Abroad, the general's statement was interpreted in some quarters as a pledge of military action. He said later he had been talking of accomplishing the objective through peaceful means.

Stevenson told his audience: "When the Republican candidate first made his reckless proposal, the almost universal dismay and shock on two continents resulted in quick denials that his statements had been interpreted correctly."

"I am all the more astonished, therefore, to find the general reiterating those strange liberation promises in advertisements released for use in 300 foreign language newspapers."

The crowd roared back with applause when Stevenson said, "This do - nothing, care - nothing, know-nothing mumbo jumbo that has dominated the Old Guard's thoughts for generations is the surest way to drive a people to the extremes of Socialism, Fascism or Communism."

Political Stickers Slow Down Mails

SAN FERNANDO, Calif., Oct. 23 —The mails have been a little late here this week.

Postmaster T. R. Wilson explained that "somebody's been plastering 'I Like Ike' stickers all over our trucks. The drivers have to stop to scrape them off. It's against the law, you know."

Leaf Burners Are Again Cautioned

Officials again caution residents of the city against burning leaves or other refuse except between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M. All smoke from such burning must, under the order, cease at 4 P. M.; refuse must not be allowed to smoulder after that time.

Complaints of violations of the order have reached the officials and no additional warning is planned before filing of charges against violators.

In some instances, smoke has been hanging over parts of the city until late in the night.

Series Of Alarms But Damage Light

Firemen responded to three alarms from 1:50 P. M. Wednesday, until 9:50 A. M. Thursday, but damage was light in each instance.

At 1:50 P. M. Wednesday a grass fire was extinguished at 725 Rawlings Street.

At 9:10 A. M. Thursday the tank truck was taken to the rear of 1310 Washington Avenue, where burning rubbish had spread to leaves and ignited some lumber.

A half hour later the firemen took the tank truck to 1023 Washington Avenue, Buckingham Rest Home, where burning refuse had ignited grass and was spreading.

Firemen urge citizens generally to be careful in burning rubbish while there are so many dry leaves on the ground, and the grass is dry.
